

I am outraged by the decision by Sinclair Communications to force their stations to air the anti-Kerry program, "Stolen Honor."

Their actions speak to the dangers of media consolidation. They also speak to how easily manipulated the public airwaves can be by powerful interests with political agendas.

The FCC's initial decision not to block this action opens Chairman Powell to charges of politicizing his office. I find Sinclair's actions far more outrageous than Janet Jackson's bare breast. But then again, Mr. Powell is not the son of Ms. Jackson.

Please take action now, and please save some semblance of democracy on our airwaves.

Sincerely,

Alan M. Cantor
